A Gray touring car, owned and driven by Arthur McGee of Vesta 6, was slightly damaged by fire this morning at 10 o'clock, while driving down Fifth street between Fallowfield and McKean avenues, when gasoline dripping from a leaking tank located above the engine, ignited when coming in contact with the hot motor.

The Charleroi Volunteer Fire-Depart ment was called and responded immediately, but through the efforts of employes of the store of J. W. Berryman & Son and the Charleroi Taxi company, the fire was squelched by means of fire extinguishers secured from the business establishments, a few minutes before the arrival of the firemen. Other than burning the connecting wires, the loss was small.

National Defense Day Will Be Fittingly Observed in Charleroi

National Defense day is Friday, September 12.

On this day there will be a "Demonstration of the National Defense Plan," the first ever made by the United States to help itself in time of national danger. The demonstration is intended to call the attention of all citizens to the existence of the Defense plan; to show them its thoroughly democratic character; to show them what is being done under the plan, to depict the progress of mobilization and the dependency of units on the communities to which they are allocated.

The Demonstration has two objectives:

1. Patriotic demonstrations.
2. Test Mobilization.

A Military Committee has been appointed by Headquarters Third Corps Area in every place where a military unit is to be mobilized; committees composed of officers of all components residing therein. The military committees act as military advisors to the Civilian Committees, and are the field representatives through whom Corps Area Headquarters keep in touch with the Civilian Committees.

In Charleroi the Military committee is made up of the U. S. Reserve officers as follows: Dr. Edwin McKay, president; Capt. E. W. Patton, Capt. John R. Gaut, and Lieutenant William Mathias.

A Civilian Committee has been appointed at each mobilization point; also, Civilian Committees will have full charge of all plans for patriotic demonstrations within their jurisdiction and will have the deciding vote as to what will be attempted.

This committee is composed of J. B. Tussing, C. S. McKean, S. L. Woodward, W. H. Milliken and Harry E. Price.

At a meeting of the committee held in the Municipal building last night, plans for the proper observing of the day in Charleroi were formed.

One or more companies of full military strength will be recruited during the coming week and mobilized some time Friday, September 12. The mobilization of these units will take place some time during the day, the manner of notification to be given out later. In the evening a short parade of the military units recruited will take place, after which a short address and prayer will be offered.

A recruiting office will be opened at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Municipal building on Monday noon and will be open until Thursday night. This recruiting office will be in charge of Capt. E. W. Patton and James T. Heffran. All men of military age who are willing to serve their country for one day only or as much of the day as is necessary, are urged to volunteer their services by reporting to the recruiting officers and being properly enrolled. All those who volunteer for this mobilization will be properly officered.

The National Defense Plan is the work of Congress under the Constitutional provision "to promote the general welfare, to provide for the common defense, and to secure the blessings of peace to ourselves and our posterity." Any feature of recreation, parade, celebration, band concert, etc., is desired that appeals to the sentiment of the community and serves to inform it of the Defense plan.

Bunola Man Hurt Removing Auto Tire

Frank Disantis, 22 years old, of Bunola, suffered a crushed foot and injuries to his knee yesterday morning when the front axle of a Ford truck which he was driving on the Mingo highway enroute to the city of Pittsburgh slipped off a jack while he was attempting to remove a flat tire from a front wheel, the rim of the wheel falling on his foot and badly crushing the member.

The hub of the wheel also struck the knee of the man and inflicted a painful contusion. Unable to move the wheel, and faint from pain and loss of blood, the unfortunate man was found by passing motorists who gave first aid and removed him to a farm house. Disantis was removed to the Memorial hospital. Monongahela, where a picture was taken of the injury. This disclosed that two bones were broken in the foot, while the kneecap was dislocated and wrenched. He was taken to his home by members of his family, where he will be confined for several days, at least, as a result of the mishap and injuries sustained.

VIOLENT DEATHS HELD ACCIDENTAL

Coroner William Greenlee conducted inquests at Canonsburg yesterday into three violent deaths which occurred in that district, the juries hearing the evidence returning verdicts of accidental death in each.

One of the deaths investigated was that of Edward Hanley, war veteran, who was killed in the Murray Hill cut of the Pennsylvania railroad on August 5. It was found he came to his death while trespassing on the railroad property.

W. M. Moore, of Braddock, Pa., driver of the automobile which struck and killed Donald Miller, aged eight, son of D. Howard Miller of North Strabane township, on August 31, was exonerated of any blame, the accident being held unavoidable.

The third death investigated was that of George Goydos, aged five, son of George Goydos of the New Philadelphia section of Canonsburg. The boy was killed when he was knocked under the wheels of a train, which was suddenly started as he was trying to climb between two cars. The lad was held to have been trespassing.

LAST CASE BRINGS IN A LOCAL WOMAN

Case Is That of Mrs. Mary Frye, Who Is Accused By Her Mother With Forgery, Fraudulent Conversion of Money

SET FOR MAY IS CONTINUED

Defense Is That the Money Was For the Purpose of Paying Back a Loan, And Was So Understood At the Time — Prosecutor Is 84 Years Old

The last case of the August term of criminal court is now on trial before Judge James I. Brownson in Washington. It is the case of Mrs. Mary Frye of this place, who is accused by her mother, Mrs. Harriet R. Tuman, of Dormont, with forgery and fraudulent conversion of money. Mrs. Tuman, who formerly lived with Mrs. Frye, charges her daughter with filling in for $1200 a blank check she had signed to pay $34.92 state and county taxes due on her property. Mrs. Tuman, who is 84 years of age, frequently gave her daughter signed blank checks to pay bills. The check alleged to have been made for $1200 was written August 2, 1922, but was not discovered until early in the present year. The defense was that the money was for the purpose of paying back a loan and was so understood at the time. The case was first set for trial last May but was continued and later was continued from August 26 to yesterday.

John Settles, alias Dink Settles, colored, of Midland, who shot and killed Gaines Patmon, also colored, during a quarrel at Midland, on June 14 last, entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter yesterday before Judge Erwin Cummins. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $1, and to be confined in the Western penitentiary for a term of from three to six years.

On the day of the killing, both Settles and Patmon were at the house of George Oliver, at Midland. They had been drinking and started to argue about labor troubles. They got into a scuffle just as Oliver, who had been to the store, returned. He separated them, but they started at each other again. Patmon drew a knife and stabbed Settles in the chest [illegible] as Oliver separated them again Settles drew a revolver and fired twice, killing Patmon.

Elizabeth Yeater, of Avella, who was tried Thursday afternoon before Judge Cummins, charged with wantonly pointing firearms, was found guilty yesterday by the jury, but recommended to the mercy of the court. Judge Cummins stated that whenever a jury brings in a verdict based on the evidence and does not allow a sentiment to sway it, then it is doing its duty. He said further that it was perfectly right and proper for a jury to recommend a defendant to the mercy of the court, and that in the present case he would take account of this recommendation in passing sentence. He postponed sentence until September 15, so that an investigation can be made with a view to granting a parole.

This trouble arose over an argument regarding a hatchet. On May 31, 1924, Joe Deorio was doing some work at the house adjoining that in which the defendant lives. He had several hatchets and saws with him, and he said that Elizabeth Yeater took one of the hatchets, alleging it belonged to her brother. He asked her for it, and says she threatened to cut his head off. At the same time she drew a revolver and fired several shots at him. He made his escape. The Yeater woman alleged self defense, saying that Deorio had thrown some stones at her.

A CUTTING AFFRAY AT BELLE VERNON

Joseph Zauzare is a prisoner in the North Belle Bernon lockup and Dewey Nichols is confined to his home suffering from stab wounds as a result of a battle late Thursday night between the two men. According the police, Nichols was the agressor in the fight but came out second best man when the police arrived on the scene. No charges have been preferred against Zanzare by Nichols and he will probably be asseessed a fine and costs under a borough ordinance.

LOCAL CHURCH TO BE OPENED WITH HOLY COMMUNION

The opening services of the year will be conducted Sunday morning at St. Mary's Episcopal church by Rev. Albert N. Roberts, rector of Trinity church, Monessen. This service, which will be Holy Communion, is the first to be conducted in the church since Sunday, August 3, when the parish closed, as customary, for the balance of the month.

Numerous improvements and repairs have been completed during the period of inactivity, particularly, in the church school room, the result of joint endeavors on the part of the vestrymen and the Ladies' Guild. Improvements are still under way in the church school room and it will be necessary for the children and teachers to meet in the auditorium of the church Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Rev. Sidney H. Dixon, rector of the local parish, who is spending his vacation at his home in Elkton, Maryland, and will conduct the services at St. Paul's church, Porter street, Philadelphia, Sunday, will return Wednesday, September 10, to take up the duties of the church work, with renewed vigor and enthusiasm, and with the cooperation of the congregation, the forthcoming year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the church.

DEFENSE DAY.

The theory on which Defense day will be conducted on Friday, September 12, is that America is menaced by a foe and needs the services of every citizen.

For this reason, a prominent feature of the celebration will be "Enlistment for the day." By this act, all who enlist will signify by their enlistment that, if the government needed them, they would be ready to serve.

The military ages are between 17 and 35, but on Defense day, persons younger than 17 may enlist, as may also those who are older. In fact there are no age limits.

But, the success of Defense day in Charleroi requires more than enlistment for the day. There are preliminaries to be taken care of, there are details of the parade to be arranged, speakers to be secured, doubtless, and the time is short.

WISER AFTER SEEING RUSSIA.

Another theoretical friend of the Russian revolutionists has been bitterly disappointed and thoroughly disillusioned after personal investigation. The novels of Fanny Hurst have shown that she possesses powers of intelligent and shrewd observation. When recently she sojourned in Russia these native gifts were not slow to demolish the foundations of her confiding faith that the present rulers of that country have achieved a laudable and successful reform in the conduct of human affairs. The Bolsheviki had all her sympathy and the charges against them, unfounded as she believed, had caused her much regret and no little indignation. But now she has found abundant reason to change her mind. Sick at heart, she has shaken the dust of Russia from her feet and is seeking in Paris to recover from the shock caused by what she saw in the land of the soviets.

A Paris dispatch quotes her as saying that "all Red Russia is a seething slum," that Sovietism is "a great beast, half stupid, half mad, on its back in death agony" and that "Russia is still chaos, with poverty among the bourgeois as well as the professional classes and squalor and filth everywhere." On every face in poverty stricken Petrograd and Moscow she saw "nothing but fear, overwhelming fear." How in the midst of all this she could still find in Trotsky "the white light of inspiration" is not at all clear, but possibly at this point she is moved by an instinctive desire to keep some small particle of her former illusions. In a manner suggesting the resignation of one who has been rudely chastened, she concludes her account with the declaration that she is now ready "to climb down from the soap box forever."

The Spinster's Song of Leap Year.

Four years ago when leap year came,
My mood was very high and mighty,
And those who sought to change my name,
I treated in a manner flighty.
Suitors, you see, I had a plenty
'Way back in good old nineteen-twenty.

Now four more years have ambled by,
And while I'm not old or crone-like,
I realize each day that I
Grow slightly more austers and bone-like.
And though my pep is still unjaded,
My rosy cheek is slightly faded.

Then nail to nineteen twenty-four,
With joyous hope my heart-strings thrilling,
When maidens may propose once more,
And grab the first guy that looks willing.
And if I see a chance to do it,
Believe me, girls, I'm going to do it.

The price of tobacco went as high as the roof a man wouldn't complain to his wife about it. He knows what she'd say. In fact, she's already said it.

Some day, perhaps, our statesmen may discover that honesty is also the best politics.

Doesn't Seem Right.

Life is one merry old muddle. The wealthy men have their twin-sixes and no children to fill the back seat and the poor fellows have six twins, and can't even afford a one-seated flivver to haul them in.

RAIN RUINS PLANS OF PIRATES-CARDS AT OAKLAND PLANT

Showers yesterday splashed a baseball game off the Pirate-Cardinal program and made it necessary to schedule a double-header for this afternoon. Immediately after the completion of the Saturday bargain, the visiting team must board a team for St Louis to meet the Cubs tomorrow.

Skipper Bill McKechnie and his Buccaneers were anxious to play yesterday, because toiling through two contests the same afternoon is regarded as a handicap, especially for a club that is right up to its ears in the closing chapter of a sensational dash for the flag.

Hard rains in the morning, made the situation appear doubtful, but the big canvas cover was kept spread over the infield and the local athletes solemnly vowed they would engage in the pastime if the downpour should cease long enough to make such a thing possible.

At last the clouds partially dispersed and the sun came out of hiding, only to slip back into seclusion as another cluster of blackness rolled overhead. After waiting until about 3 o'clock, the Pirate officials relapsed into gloom as the sprinkling was resumed.

This made it compulsory to call off the game and as the Cardinals are not billed to return to Pittsburgh again nothing was left but to arrange for a twin fracas as a finale.

FAULTY PUMPS ARE THE CAUSE OF BIG LOSS

A loss of over $380 per month is the conservative figure placed by the Westmoreland county sealers of weights and measures in defective gasoline pumps, which the public would undergo, if tests were not frequently made.

These are the startling figures made known yesterday morning as the sealers made their report for the month of August. Of 348 pumps tested, 80 were found to be incorrect. These pumps showed a loss of 5855 cubic inches on the five gallon test. If they were in operation, without testing every day the loss of 507 gallons of gas would be chalked up. On 25 cent gas this means a loss of $126.75, the sealers figure.

Most of the defective pumps are repaired within 48 hours, says the sealers, testifying that dealers desire to make corrections as soon as possible. Very few were in such bad condition that they were beyond repair.

The department finds that most of the pumps which are incorrect are installed by men who do not understand the process. "They may be good plumbers," saw the sealers, "but very poor on the installation of gasoline pumps." The larger companies have experienced men to place their pumps, they state, and in a short time it is believed that short measuring will be abolished.

In August the sealers report they found a number of gasoline pumps in such a bad condition that the fluid was leaking over the sidewalks.

HUNTERS PROTEST ABOUT THE TAGS

Harrisburg, Sept. 6—Some of the sportsmen of the state, notably those without wives, are complaining to Secretary of the Game Commission Seth E. Gordon, about the 1924 hunters' license tags, and he has come to defense of the tags.

The hunters say the new aluminum tags have sharp edges and can't be fastened satisfactorily to the coat or they say that they can't sew so can't use the tags, so Gordon replies, "Why don't you try bachelor buttons?" This is his answer to those who criticise the new tags and he asks the hunters of the state to give them a thorough trial before condemning them because the state by getting this kind has been able to save about $30,000.

Aluminum was used in place of tin, because it is "light and has no sharp edges," Gordon declared.

THE BOXING COMMISSION DEMANDS AN EXPLANATION

Jimmy Johnson is kicking up a fearful fuss over what seems to be the loss of the Walker and Leonard championship bout scheduled for the Yankee Stadium, New York, on September 22.

Johnston, with little of joy in his makeup, said yesterday that he received nothing in the way of a notification that the bout had been called off. Joy James added that in particular, he had not received a single word of warning from Leonard or Gibson, that the lightweight champion's right wing was on the dry dock for repairs. Jimmy Joy went a bit further. He said that he had been called by the boxing commission at a special meeting to be held this morning, and goodness only knows what will come of it, says poor joyous.

James Joy seems to believe that the boxing commission is mad about the whole business and may raise trouble. Not wanting to stir up such a consistently soft spoken gentleman as Mr. Brower, the chairman of the commission, James Joy is going to be right on the door step of the commission when the meeting is called to order.

Gibson says that his office, the office wherein the business worries of a lightweight champion are ironed out, duly notified the house of Johnston that the bout was off, because of Benny's crippled flipper. James Joy says he didn't get the message and wasn't expecting one if he did. Gib says that Charley Johnston, the little promoter's big brother, got the message and was instructed to relay it to James Joy, who is no part of Joy now. Wonder how it all will come out? Great racket if you don't lose your enthusiasm.

KINDERGARTEN OFF WITH FULL QUOTA

Monessen's new kindergarten, conducted by Mrs. G. H. Thomas, widow of the late G. H. Thomas, opened on Monday morning with a full enrollment of 20 and a large waiting list. During the summer months, the kindergarten rooms in her home on Park Way were remodeled and fully equipped with the latest games and devices used in the instruction of children.

CLOSE VIGIL IS KEPT ON LEOPOLD AND "DICK" LOEB

Chicago, Sept. 6.— Extraordinary watch is being kept on Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb as the time nears for Justice John R. Caverly to impose sentence for the murder of Bobby Franks. Never at any time of the day or night are the youths free from surveillance.

Prisoners in cells adjoining the cells of Nathan and Richard are assisting guards in the sleepless vigil.

Leopold and Loeb are in cells on the sixth tier. Because they are at the end of the tier, guards on the seventh and fifth tier can look into their cells.

Taking advantage of that fact, Warden Estabrook has ordered that the guard on the sixth tier keep within watching distance of the youths' cells until the guard on tier No. 7 comes up. The seventh tier guard then remains where he can watch until the fifth tier guard comes to the end of the row on his rounds. This fifth tier guard is instructed to remain until the sixth tier guard returns once more.

Today prisoners also have been placed in cell 602, between 600, Loeb's cell, and 604 in which Leopold is confined.

Westbrook said that the youths do not know that they are being watched so closely. They continue cheerful. They receive visits from friends twice daily. Of late the number of girl visitors have been increasing.

Justice Caverly has left Chicago for the home of a friend about a hundred miles north, where he will put his sentence in writing. He will return on the night of September 9 and impose sentence next morning.

In a signed article in his magazine La Follette brands the recent advance in farm prices as "gold bricks highly polished by the special interest government for the farmer in exchange for his votes" and declares that the farmers "are not the sole or even the principal beneficiaries of the advance." Doubtless the farmers themselves are much more interested in the advance than in any theory as to its origin.

Frozen fast in the ice of northern Greenland is the staunch ship "Bowdoin"—eleven and one-half degrees from the North Pole. Yet—thanks to the ZENITH, with its long reach—Dr. MacMillan and his fellow explorers are in constant communication with relatives and friends in the far-off States. Daily they listen to concerts as far away as Chicago, Dallas and Honolulu!

Let us prove—by a demonstration—the extraordinary range and selectivity of the new models.

The Real Test Of An 8

After all, it is rather difficult just to casually look at any one car and properly judge its merits.
What you must do is to examine and try all the leading 8's before you can judiciously discover the best one.
For there are other good 8's—some mighty excellent ones too. And it's because the others are so fine that we are rather proud to invite a test comparison.
If the Rickenbacker 8 were not a miraculous performer, we could not make such a courageous suggestion.
So put the several leading 8's to the following simple tests:
See which has the swiftest acceleration—from 5 to 50 miles an hour.
See which has the surest and fastest 4-wheel brake deceleration—from 25 miles an hour to a dead stop.
See which travels the easiest in sand or mud at low speeds in high gear.
See which rides the smoothest on the roughest roads you can find.
See which has greatest riding comfort in both front and rear seats.
See which is the easiest to "park" in a small, confined space.
Compare the motor. See the simplicity and compactness of the Rickenbacker 8.
Then finally note the great difference in price!
Why pay more—and get less?
Come in today and let us demonstrate the difference.

Should you have a "6" in mind, you surely want to have a demonstration of the famous Rickenbacker 6 cylinder design. This model is replete with numerous engineering refinements—moderately priced—and comes in a variety of attractive body styles.
Telephone us at once. We will be glad to give you a demonstration by appointment.

WHAT WAS SAVED THEY TOOK FOR PAY

Constantinople, Sept. 6.—Jealousy between professional and old-time volunteer fire departments here has caused the former, through the Prefect, to ask the Governor to remove, abolish, abandon, lose and utterly wipe out and extinguish the old "irregulars."

The "irregulars" were pretty much a bucket brigade and their equipment lacked nearly everything necessary to put out a fire.

But they had the "pep." When there was a fire they hopped right to it. Of course, they worked without regular pay, but that didn't bother them. When they saw the fire was beyond control, or apt to reach that stage, they immediately arranged "payment." The volunteers would plunge in and remove the contents of the blazing structure. They took everything that wasn't nailed down—for payment—usually, however, leaving a little for the owner.

UNUSUAL MARRIAGE ANGLE AT MAJESTIC

A prominent Eastern judge who has presided over several hundred divorce trials recently declared that 90 per cent of all divorce cases are based on indifference.

"The fault lies chiefly with the husband," he stated. "A man forgets that he must continue to court a wife even after the knot is tied. A wife likes to be told over and over again that she is loved; she likes attention after marriage just as she liked it before, and if Hubby doesn't give her this attention she is going to seek it elsewhere.

"Rarely do I find that the whole blame for marital trouble can be placed on the wife. More often than not the husband is wholly responsible for an erring wife because of his indifference. In every home where the the husband continues to be as effective a lover as he was in the courting days there is perfect harmony."

The First National picture "Single Wives," will be shown at the Majestic for four days beginning Monday. It was written around a typical American society home where a husband's indifference [illegible] about a most tragic state of affairs

A wife seeking love and attention is virtually forced into another man's arms through her husband's lack of appreciation. The husband is too wrapped up in his business to take part in their social obligations, accepting the proverbial standard that "a fish should not be fed bait after it is caught"

In "Single Wives" Corinne Griffith, credited as being one of the screen's most attractive stars, has a role ideally suited to her in the part of Betty Jordon, the wife. Milton Sills is the husband and Lou Tellegen the third angle in the triangle. Other prominent film luminaries in the cast are Henry B. Walthall, Kathlyn Williams, Phyllis Haver, Jack Patrick and Jere Austin.

NEW CABINET IS FORMED UPON DEMAND OF ARMY

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 6—A new Chilean cabinet with Gen. Altamirano as minister of the interior, at its head, was formed today upon demand of the army.

The General was hailed with acclaim as he left the presidental palace and was hailed as "our Primo Rivera" and "Our Mussolini."

There were no disturbances, owing to President Allessandri's ready acquiescence to the military group's demands for increased salaries for the army, marines and police.

Polished Remarks

A fussy old woman inquired in a druggist's the price of brimstone. Upon being informed, she replied that she knew where she could get it cheaper. "If it's cheapness you want," replied the clerk, "and I wasn't afraid of getting fired, I could soon tell you where you could get it for nothing!"

STRONG CURRENTS PREVENT SWIMMING ENGLISH CHANNEL

Cape Gris Nez. France, Sept. 6 — Lillian Harrison, Argentine swimmer, who set out to swim the English channel, accompanied by an Egyptian natator, Helmi, abandoned the attempt after nine hours in the water today. Helmi also quit.

The swimmers plunged in from Gris Nez at 3.50 a. m., and encountered unusually cold water and strong currents which prevented their proceeding at more than one kilometer an hour. They were picked up by a tugboat, the Alsace.

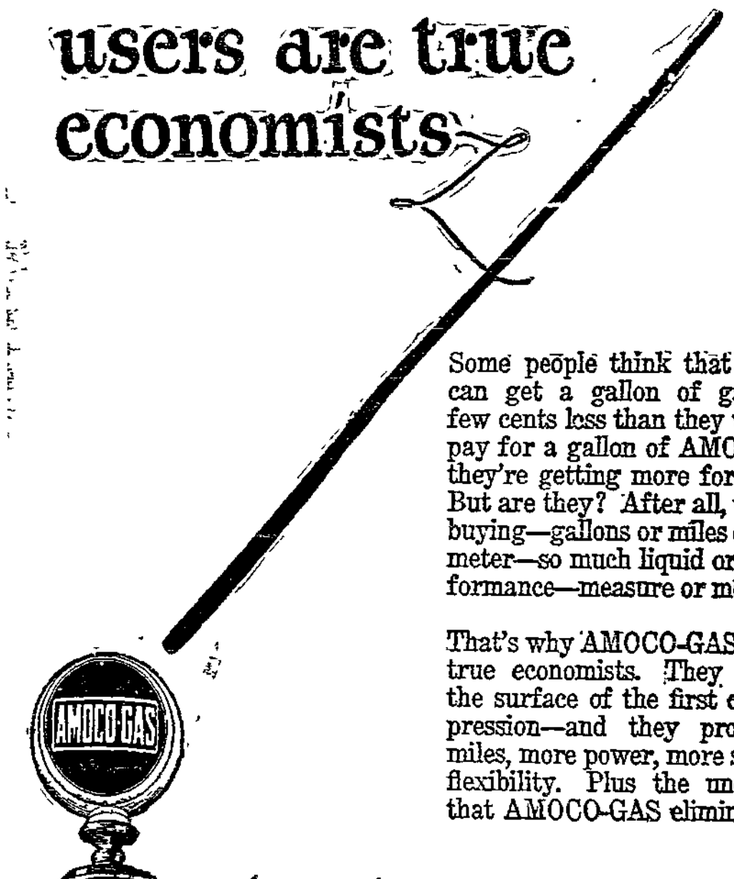
AMOCO-GAS

users are true economists



Some people think that because they can get a gallon of gasoline for a few cents less than they would have to pay for a gallon of AMOCO-GAS that they're getting more for their money. But are they? After all, what are they buying—gallons or miles on the speedometer—so much liquid or so much performance—measure or money's worth?

That's why AMOCO-GAS users are the true economists. They look beneath the surface of the first cost—first impression—and they profit by more miles, more power, more speed, greater flexibility. Plus the undeniable fact that AMOCO-GAS eliminates carbon.
